

Abierto el plazo para la presentación de propuestas a la convocatoria "University of Essex: Mobility".

Objeto:

The International Visiting Fellowships are the University's flagship research fellowship programme, in which internationally recognised researchers based outside of the United Kingdom are invited to experience and contribute to the research community at the University of Essex. As this is a collaborative scheme, applicants are required to identify an Essex academic to host the visit and the nature of the research should be of significant benefit to the host department and the University.
